*The Golden
Goblin
1967*

*Volume 13
Harrison High School
Harrison, Arkansas*

Foreword

We have produced for you a book of reflections. As we someday look back at ourselves, we can recall years of success and happiness.

Time passes so quickly that, before we can realize it, our days have become months and years. Soon we will find ourselves slowly drawing away from the school friends and familiar school environment that we have enjoyed.

In the hearts of those who have shared the enlightenment of classroom activity, the fellowship of sports, and gaiety and laughter in the halls, memories will never perish.

We sincerely hope that our book, the 1967 GOLDEN GOBLIN, will keep the wonderful years at Harrison High School alive forever, enlightening the present and brightening the future.

Dedication

In appreciation for her helpfulness, cheerfulness, and friendly interest, the staff affectionately dedicates the 1967 Golden Goblin to Mrs. Ruth McCoy.

Mrs. McCoy began her teaching career here at HHS in 1956. She has taught geography, English II, III, and IV.

This year the Seniors of HHS voted her the "Groovy Teacher Award" which was sponsored by W L S Radio of Chicago.

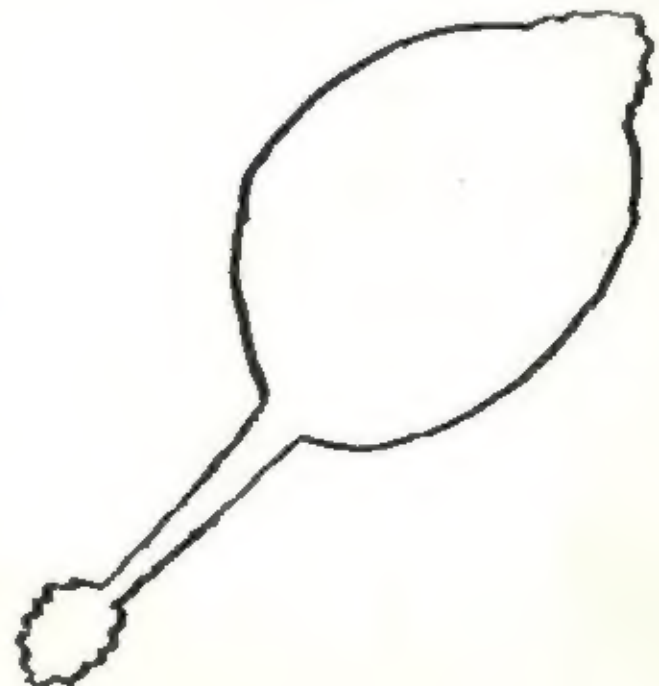

The people of a high school are not all students. There are the teachers, the personnel, the administration, and the board of education. Each person has his own place in the school, his own job in the never ending assembly line of duties necessary to maintain a smooth running, highly accredited high school. Truly, the livelihood of any educational institution is the organizations which provide student leadership and those activities which provide a wholesome school atmosphere. Led by a devoted and capable student council, the activities program contributed greatly to the school life of the student body.

Superintendent Coordinates School Program

For three years, Mr. Everett Kelley has constantly worked toward a smooth running and progressive school system for Harrison. By his tact and understanding, he has ably guided the school through expansion and change.

Because Mr. Kelley has a family, he understands the problems that arise at home, the decisions that have to be made, and he is better able to talk with the parents and to try to establish a closer relationship between the home and the school. As a parent, a former classroom teacher, and an administrator, he has an overall view of the Harrison School system, its merits and its flaws. By a close cooperation with the Board of Education, he constantly strives to raise the standards of Harrison High School.

Mr. Kelley, superintendent, offers a chair to interested parents, or students who are helping him to make the Harrison School system one of the best in the state.

Mr. Kelley gleans information from faculty, parents, students, Board of Education and working staff in his office, the heart of the school.

Board of Education Plans Curriculum

A guiding force in the Harrison School system is the Board of Education, who spend many hours trying to provide the best educational system possible for the students. As parents and citizens, they can see the issues both from the standpoint of families and from that of the community. By working closely with Mr. Kelley, they are able to decide in what areas improvements need to be made. In Harrison we are fortunate to have men on the Board of Education who are church and civic leaders as well as being leaders along educational lines. Serving without pay, these men are the driving force little seen by the students, that do so much to try to make the educational system in Harrison one that will prepare its graduates both for making a living and making a life. Serving as a liaison between the community and the school, the board ably performs its function of working for the best interest of the students.

June Carrol, Secretary, and Mr. Everett Kelley, Superintendent.

Principal Heads Faculty

There are many responsibilities that rest on the shoulders of a high-school principal, and here at HHS we are proud to have a man like Mr. Leon Blackwood to meet these responsibilities. With the help of Mrs. Bernice Pledger, his secretary, also the friend of all students, Mr. Blackwood keeps our school running smoothly with a minimum of restrictions and a maximum of efficiency.

Mr. Blackwood always finds time in his busy schedule to greet his students. Here he chats with Linda Foster and Paul Mathis on the steps of Senior Hall.

Office Staff: Tony Kendall, Ray McCraw, Janice Phillips, Vicky O'Halloran, Nancy Savells, Kay Carlton, Barbara Methvin, Sharon Villines, Kathy Clayborn and Ann Angel.

Mrs. Bernice Pledger, Secretary.

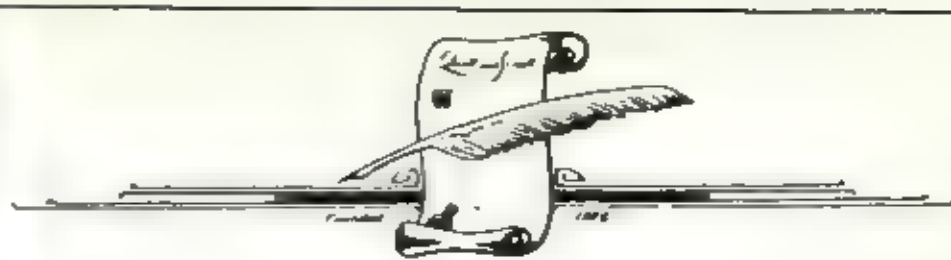

Faculty advisor for Quill & Scroll and the paper staff, Mrs. Robbie Grace, checks editorials with co-editors Penny Nickels and Paula Mitchell.

Linda Taylor, business manager counts proceeds from the sale of the Goblin while Joan Himesly, art editor, inconspicuously "borrows" money.

"Minnie and her printing press." Minnie Edgmon, mimeograph operator, and Ruby Edlings, feature editor, prepare to run off a copy of the Goblin.

Quill & Scroll

In Journalism, students learn the fundamentals of newspaper writing. By writing, financing, and publishing the Goblin, the student paper staff members get a chance to put their knowledge to good use.

Eight regular issues, plus a special issue for Colors Day were published during the school year.

Students on the paper staff are members of the reactivated Quill & Scroll Chapter, an International Honorary Society for High School Journalists.

Besides being sports editor and class editor for the paper, Terry Villines and Dolores Perme also find spare moments to devote their time and talents to the yearbook staff, serving as sports editor and activities editor.

Serves Entertains

The Student Council had many projects this year. First of all, two members of each class served as a greeting committee for new students and visitors. The Student Council gave to the students of HHS a way to show off their own talents in the Talent Show which will become an annual event. This program was well received by all students and faculty of high school. Plans have been completed for a new fountain which the school will enjoy next year. The entertaining Southern Assemblies and Chapel programs are due to our Student Council. The members also secured a new flag which was donated by the American Legion for the school. The Student Council takes care of the flag each day. The really great thing which we all owe to these people and the First National Bank is the wonderful piped in music in the H.S. Cafeteria. The Student Council sponsored Twirp Week and a dance at the end of the week. This was immensely enjoyed especially by the boys, because the girls did all of the work. To close out the year, the Student Council sponsored the Student Body elections which turned out to be very interesting. This year was full of many enjoyable and pleasant moments for us all to cherish and look back upon as reflections of HHS.

Informs Works

Student Body Elections highlighted the year for the Student Council. Those who ran were: Tommy Nickels, Robert Hudson, James Hunt, Dickie Sullivan, Roger Earnest, Buddy Fuller, Mike Jech, Doug Rederson, and Jerry Smith. The campaign chairmen were: Bill Phillips, Bill Cromwell, Ray McCraw, Greg Wilson, Bill Reeves, Terry Villines, Ross Phillips, Lynn Doshier, and Tony Kendall.

The basis of a great nation is a great democratic government, the basis of a great student body is a Student Council that will represent the wishes and wants of the students. This year the Student Council has done a great job, and has reflected the past and foretold the future for a better HHS.

National Honor Society Stresses

Library assistants are trained to be able to answer questions about our high school library and to help the students find reference materials as well as light reading.

The Library Club provides interesting and helpful programs on the different phases of library work. The student librarians keep an up-to-date, attractive bulletin board which never fails to draw attention.

Students in the Distributive Education Department train for careers in marketing and distribution. Distributive Education students are taught the basic principles of merchandising, an understanding of various distributive occupations, and opportunities available. Many students who begin their careers in D. E. become business owners or management employees of big companies.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America serve as another means of training for D. E. students. D. E. students are made aware of their obligation to the community where they reside. One of the goals of DECA is to participate in worth-while projects for community betterment. D. E. students have an opportunity to develop socially through a series of social events planned by club committees. Through participation in chapter activities, members learn to organize and plan activities and thus learn to serve as both leaders and followers. All awards were won in state competition at the State Leadership Conference held in Little Rock. Charlotte Baughman will be a delegate to the National Leadership Conference which will be held in Chicago.

FFA Learns by Doing

Learning to Do

Future Farmers of America is a national organization for boys studying vocational agriculture in high schools. It is an educational, nonprofit organization of voluntary membership, designed to develop agricultural leadership, character, thrift, scholarship, cooperation, citizenship, and patriotism. Their motto is "Learning to do; Doing to learn; Earning to live; Learning to serve."

The FFA has played a vital role at HHS. The boys taking this course not only have improved their minds, but have aided other people as well. They serve the school in many ways. Anyone who has ever been associated with preparing the homecoming stage or Drama Club plays, will remember the extra hours Mr. Robinson and his FFA boys spent working on the settings.

Guidance Counselor and Office Staff

There are many responsibilities that rest on the shoulders of the Guidance Counselor. The man faced with these responsibilities in HHS is Mr. McCutcheon. His purpose is to help students to take advantage of their opportunities and to make the proper preparations to meet these opportunities.

The time comes when every student must get information concerning his future career. The student obtains information and test scores through personal interviews with the Guidance Counselor. Mr. McCutcheon helps the student get acquainted with himself and simultaneously directs them through the daily problems of school. With the leadership of Mr. McCutcheon, this department functions entirely with and for the future of the student by his test results and capability of their future plans.

To aid the student is the job of HHS's guidance counselor, Mr. McCutcheon. Here, he is helping Nancy Parkinson choose and make her future plans.

Math--Logical Thinking

Mr. Gerald Kelley shows his students in geometry, Algebra II and advanced math how to solve a problem.

Under the direction of Mr. Kelley and Mr. Nelson students of HHS are kept up to date with the newest math methods and course content. Successful completion of courses in mathematics is a partial fulfillment of the graduation requirements. It is also preparation for work and for college.

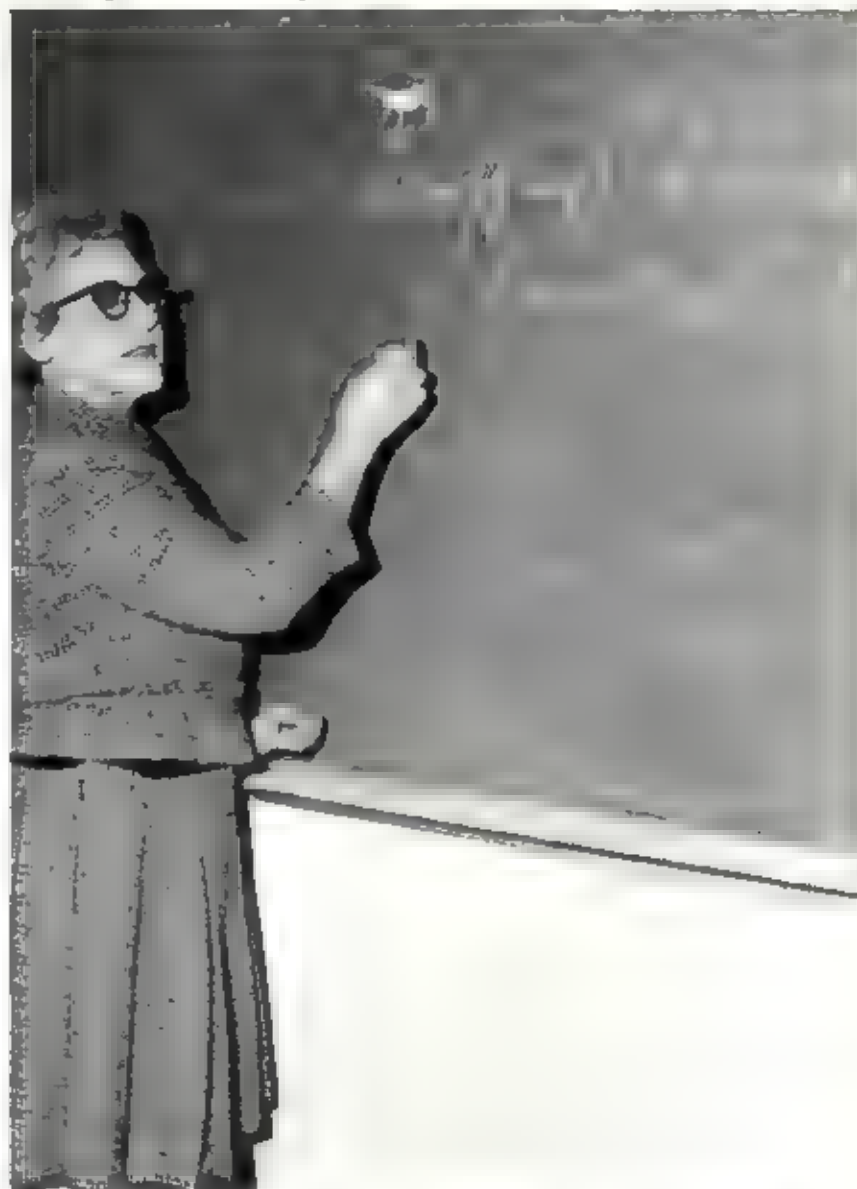

Students work industriously on their math homework in Geometry.

Mr. Tom Nelson helps Bill Thompson with a difficult problem in general math and Algebra I.

English--The Product of Good Grammar

The English department of Harrison High School offers to the students the techniques and skills of listening, thinking, reading, writing, and speaking the English language. The department also gives the student a knowledge and understanding of World Literature, American Literature, and English Literature.

Study Hall and Library

Mr. Otis Horn gives Pat Andrews some assistance on a hard Algebra II problem.

The library of HHS is a beehive of activity from the seniors doing last minute research, sophomores and juniors working on their science projects; to teachers desiring special books. Also adding to the hubbub are the ever present browsers and the students who relax by reading the current newspapers or leafing through one of the many available magazines.

The study hall is the room in which students of HHS can study with the quietness and with the assistance of Mr. Otis Horn.

Senior boys demonstrating the "hard life" of a senior.

Our librarian, Mrs. Esther Cook, gives instructions to one of her many helpers.

Band, Chorus, and Art

The HHS Band performs at all home ball games and pep assemblies. They also give concerts for the student body and the public. The glee club works to prepare assembly programs for our school, civic clubs, and other events. They present a Christmas and a spring concert annually.

Mrs. Gibson illustrates to her chorus class the importance of vowel formation.

The new art teacher, Mr. Townzen, is instructing his students in painting landscapes, portraits, and still-life. These pictures were displayed at the Christmas band concert and will be in the spring exhibit. We have many talented artists in HHS and we are proud of them all.

Mr. Anderson led the HHS Band to great success on many occasions during the school year.

Mr. Carroll Townzen, art teacher of HHS, has many new ideas. He is showing a picture, painted by one of his students.

Social Studies-- Philosophy Teaching By Examples

In American and world history courses, students find the knowledge which enables them to appreciate their social, economical, and religious heritage, and to apply this knowledge toward a better future. These courses help the students to realize the influence of years gone by upon present-day problems.

For those who are particularly interested in the organization, function, and service of the U.S., HHS offers a course in government and economics.

More than memorizing memorable moments in the history of the world, students study the why's and how-comes of global happenings. Here, Coach Hulen Quattlebaum lectures to one of his sophomore classes.

Coach Dean Wilburn listens while his American government students recite the lesson for the day. To add to their education as good Americans, government students study all four levels of government and the Bureau of "Internal Revenue".

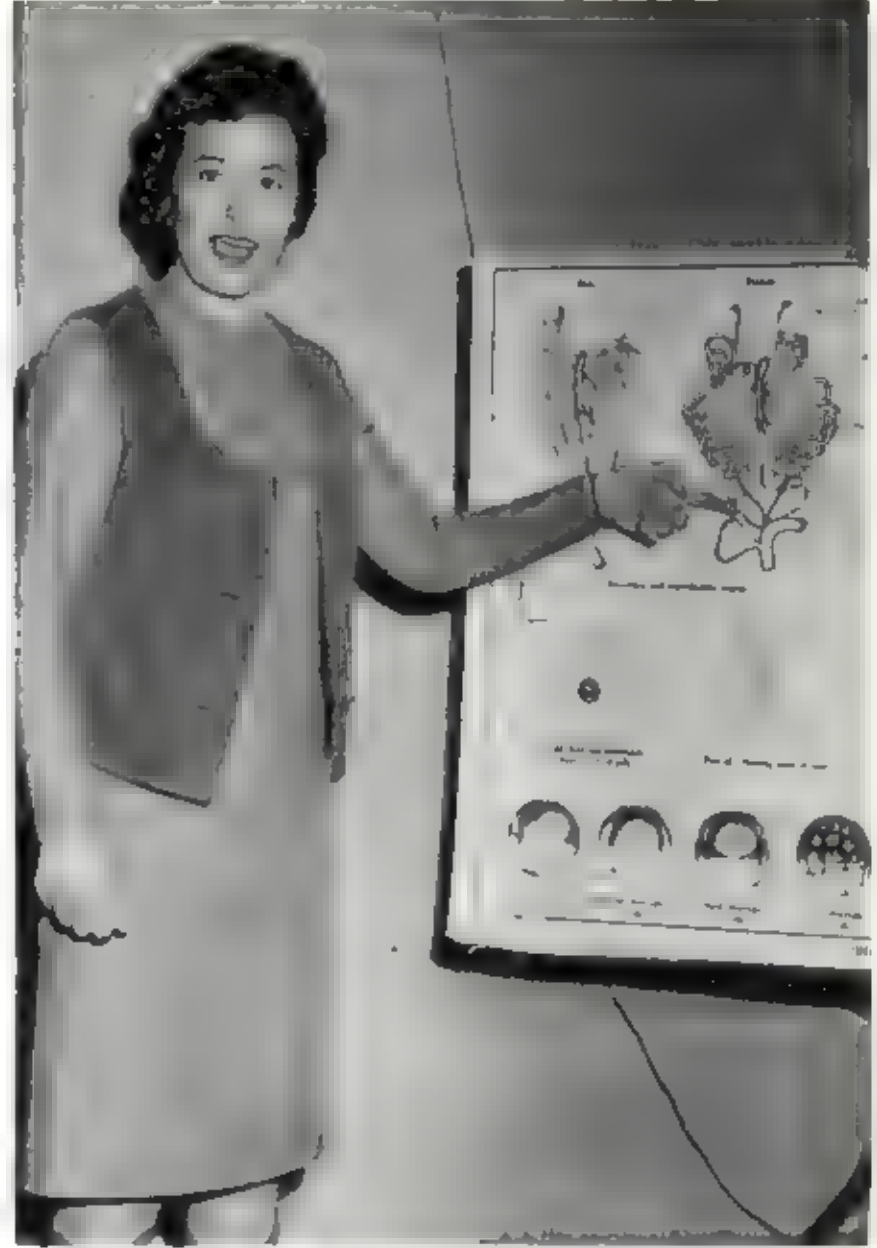

Mrs. Anna Beth Mitchell laughs with her American history class over a question asked. Mrs. Mitchell also teaches speech and sponsors the Drama Club.

Science--The Laws of Nature

Mrs. Earl Rife, teacher of chemistry and physics, is displaying her idols, Lucy and Charlie Brown, to her class.

In biology, Mrs. Kelley is showing her class the organs of a frog before they enter the lab to dissect a real one.

Psychology

Coach Toothaker in his psychology class is displaying a technique of learning on Jim Harp with John Phillips assisting.

The science department provides the students with excellent labs for use in biology, chemistry, and physics. Biology teaches the life processes of plants, animals, and humans. Chemistry deals with the characteristics of the elements, and physics includes the study of mechanics, heat, light, sound, and electricity.

Psychology and sociology help the students to learn and understand the aspect of human nature more thoroughly.

Business World Grows Along With Business Education Department

Mrs. Grace is explaining a problem to her students in office practice. She also teaches Typing I and sponsors the school paper and yearbook.

Actually, Mrs. Carolyn Raney checks a problem that has been assigned to her bookkeeping class on the adding machine.

A business education today means a higher working status tomorrow. Skill in the field toward which each business student is working is shown only in the skills which he develops with practice, along with his learning ability.

Typing I, Office Practice, Shorthand I and II, and Bookkeeping I are courses offered this year at HHS.

The one year of typing and one year of office practice are planned with emphasis on the personal satisfaction of typing and developing typing into a vocational asset.

Two years of shorthand and one year bookkeeping teaches a skill which is valuable in almost any occupation.

The teachers in this department stress the importance of perfection as well as speed in the modern business world of today.

Mrs. Louise Spradlin observes her students in Typing I as they try out the new IBM Selectrics which were added to the business education department this year.

Industrial Arts Teaches Skill in Metal and Woodcraft

Helping young men learn practical skills in wood and metal working, Industrial Arts prepares for future occupations. This is done under the direction of Mr. Lee in the new Industrial Arts building.

Mr. Lee helps Tim Risley with a problem in Industrial Arts.

Mr. Ralph Robinson, who teaches Vocational Agriculture, types a test for his boys.

Vocational Agriculture-- Supervised Training for Agricultural Employment.

Students in Vocational Agriculture study every phase of farming as it is now and what they hope it to be in the future. They examine in detail soil science, plant science, and animal science. With the realization that farming has become more mechanized; HHS places more emphasis on the use and care of farm machinery and shop.

Business methods and the keeping of accurate records are necessary, also.

Besides these things, the boys gain first hand knowledge through home projects.

Distributive Education, Distributive Occupations, & Physical Education

In physical education, Mrs. Woolsey teaches the girls to be punctual and to assume responsibility for looking after their possessions. Their activities include gymnastics and competitive games: basketball and volleyball.

Mrs. Woolsey, coach of girls physical education, is umpiring a game of baseball being played on scooters in the gym.

Each student in this program must have part-time work in some type of distributive job. He must work a minimum amount of hours each week in addition to his regular high school academic course of study. He "earns while he learns" not only money from his work, but also high school credits which help toward graduation.

This course provides training in the fields of merchandising, advertising, selling, and other phases of distribution which may help the student in choosing his life's vocation.

Mr. Roomsburg, in distributive education, helps a student figure out a difficult problem in his homework. He also teaches distributive occupations.

Spanish & Home Economics

Mrs. Nickels, who teaches the Spanish course in HHS, is showing her students a book which could help them in their lesson.

The foreign language department of HHS offers three years of Spanish. Spanish gives the students a broader knowledge of Spanish ways and customs and it also teaches the students to speak, hear, and write the language fluently.

The Spanish students are also very fortunate to have the earphones and tape machines available to them in their studies.

HHS offers three years of home economics. The course includes cooking, sewing, knitting, house-planning, marketing, and budgeting.

During the first year of home economics, the girls learn the basic fundamentals of homemaking. The second year stresses family relations and during the third year the girls develop their skills further in sewing and the other fundamentals.

Mrs. Horton shows one of her students the first steps in cutting out a pattern.

Majorettes

1st Row: Vicki Foster, Shara Rife, Captain. 2nd Row: Sharon Edwards, Mallory Sharp, Ann Dickey, Linda Edwards and Jane Dunlap. Shara Rife served this year as Majorette Captain. The selection was made on her twirling ability as well as her leadership ability. All of the majorettes are a select group as they must be able to perform well on their instrument in the band in addition to twirling a baton.

HHS Chorus

It would be hard to find a better group than this year's HHS Chorus. Early in the fall, they began to prepare for the Christmas Concert, which was enjoyed by all. They were also invited to perform for the P.T.A. and they have sung for numerous civic clubs. You'd think that they had sung enough for a while, but no, the chorus can't stop for a breather. They must begin rehearsals for the state festival and the spring concert. Yes, it takes hard work and a lot of practicing to make a good chorus.

Rhythm Raises Morale

Spirit is the essence of the school and the HHS Marching Band is a vital spark of that spirit around campus. In numerous pep rallies, through parades, and at our football games, these devoted students give of their time for the enjoyment of others. After football season, the band turns to basketball games and concert music and they give a Christmas, a winter, and a spring concert.

Of course, the seniors rate extra attention as they have devoted most of their junior and senior high years to the band. This year there are 14 seniors in the band.

Those Who Serve--Custodians and Cafeteria Staff

Those serving in the cafeteria are Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Miller, Mr. Chester, Mrs. Wray, Mrs. Morris, and Mrs. Scott.

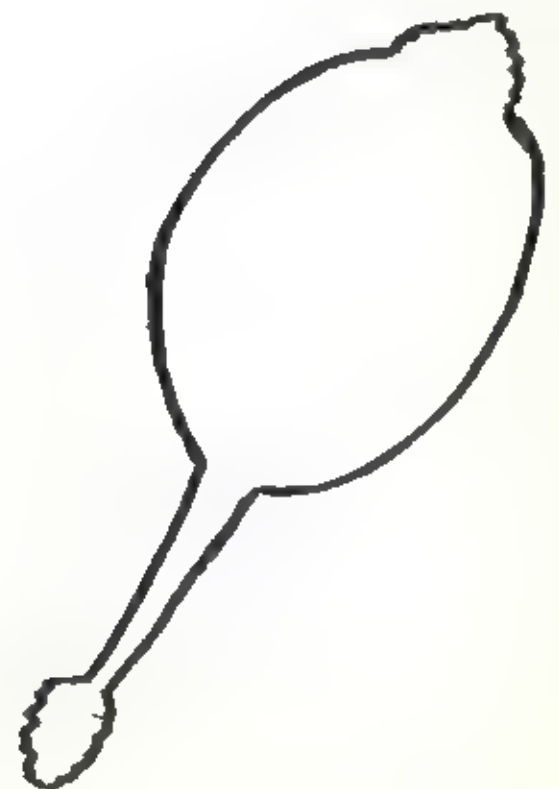

Life for a high school student is a fascinating series of events, emotions, hopes, disappointments, and dreams. Students of Harrison High School are not different. They experience the joys of being the "younger set" and resentment at the label of "juveniles." For three irreplaceable years, they strive for top positions in the academic competition and a place of their own in the demanding high school society. For those departing in 1967, there will be many new and different experiences waiting for them in the adult world. They will discover their emotions widen with fear and awe of what is expected of them. But they will never fully change, for they will always have uplifting hope.

SENIORS AT LAST! With the pleasant sensation of being the top men on the totem pole comes the rather frightening yet challenging feeling that now we are individuals in our own right faced with the question "What next?" Many of us will be continuing our education in colleges, universities, trade or business schools while others soon will be members of the armed forces or perhaps accepting jobs elsewhere. But all of us, whatever our plans, can look back over our high school days as an interlude between childhood and adult life that we hope has prepared us to meet the challenges of a fast moving world. We hope our class of '67 will go forth with a sense of optimism and with a realization that in our country what we are depends upon us. THE SKY'S THE LIMIT!

The people who were chosen by the senior class to be their leaders -- Terry Villines, President; Bill Phillips, Vice-President; and Patsy Keeter, Secretary-Treasurer.

In Memoriam

Boy Scout, church worker, student, leader, athlete, and friend -- each one of these was an important and well-known facet in his life. He will be remembered because of his ability to direct students' lives toward worthwhile goals, because of his reliability in judgement, and because of his sincerity in friendship. Not only was he a leader, but, when necessary, he was a follower which portrays his well-rounded personality even more. And now, we lovingly dedicate this page to the memory of Roy Lee Baker III.

Elections

When an athlete steps from a dressing room onto a football field, a basketball court, or a cinder track, he steps into a world of competition. In this world of competition he can rise to astronomical heights or fall by the road side in defeat. Only the sportsman can experience the triumph of victory and the agony of defeat. Win or lose, the true athlete can rise to these heights.

Goblins Finish 2nd in 1-AA Conference With 5-1-1 Record

Goblins Start Slow

The Golden Goblins started their '66 season off on the wrong foot by dropping their first two games to Forrest City and North Little Rock.

The Goblins for the first time played the Forrest City Mustangs and the North Little Rock Wildcats.

Forrest City took a quick lead by taking the opening kick-off for 70 yards and a touchdown and never yielded their lead. At the final gun the scoreboard showed 19-6 in favor of the Mustangs.

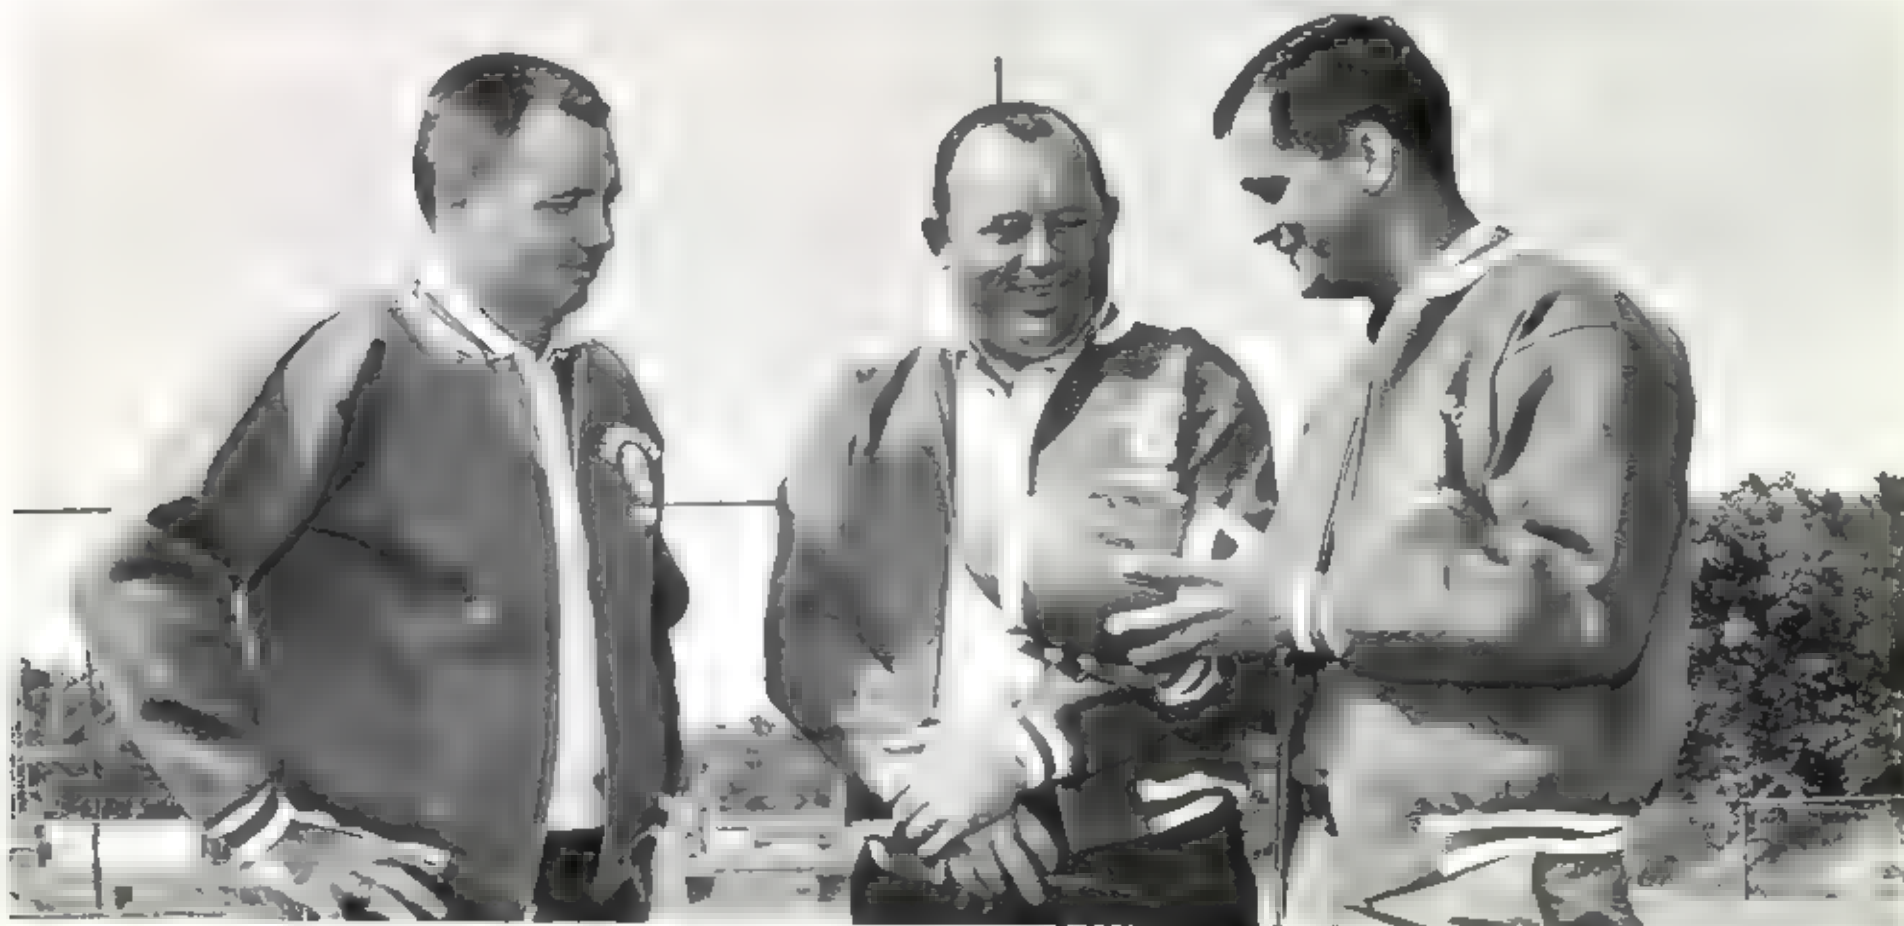

The Goblins followed up their first game by dropping their second game to the "No. 1" North Little Rock Wildcats 26-0.

The Goblins showed a good defense by holding the 'Cats to just 26 points. The offensive backs; Roy Eoff, Bill Phillips, Von Johnson and Ray McCraw could never get the ball moving against the much larger Wildcats.

The outcome was 26 points but the game was much closer and the Goblins also used this game in getting ready for the rugged 1-AA race.

Tri-captains Tim Risley, Bill Phillips and Roy Eoff were elected prior to the '66 season by fellow squadmen.

The Coaching staff for the 1966 Golden Goblins were Head Coach Hulen Quattlebaum, Asst. Coaches Ronnie Toothaker and Dean Wilburn.

Four members of the 1966 Golden Goblin football team were chosen for the Region 1-AA all-conference team. Clarke Draper, Bernest Cain, Ken Blackwell and Roy Eoff represent the Goblins on the 22 man squad.

Goblins placed on the honorable mention team are G.B. Harp, Bill Phillips, Bill Cromwell, Tim Risley, David Sims and Paul Mathis.

The Golden Goblins won their first game of the season when they edged the Mt. Home Bombers 6-0.

The hard-fought victory proved costly for the Goblins as they lost the services of fullback Bill Phillips for the rest of the season because of a fractured knee.

The Goblins scored on a two-yard run by Eoff after he had set up the score on a 30 yard keeper. The extra point was missed and the Goblins made the lone score stand up throughout the remainder of the game.

It was a four-play 62-yard drive, a lucky bounce through the goal posts, a blocked extra point try, that high-lighted the Goblins 7-6 victory over Van Buren.

The Goblins thus ran their conference record to 2-0 and 2-2 overall in downing the Pointers for the first time in nine seasons.

Five North Little Rock Wildcats converge on Bill Phillips, hard running fullback of the Goblins.

The Goblins lost their third game of the season by dropping a 7-0 non-conference affair to the Berryville Bobcats--only the second defeat in 18 years to the Carroll County lads.

The Goblins next tumbled to the Subiaco Trojans by the score of 21-12.

The Goblins outplayed the Trojans for the first 18 minutes and looked like champs for a period before the visiting Trojans got their offense rolling and Harrison went down 21-12.

The Goblins, dropping their third straight game, falling to the Corning Bobcats by the score 7-0.

The Goblins fought hard and came very close to scoring about 4 times but never could push the ball across.

Next the Goblins played probably their best game of the season when they tied the Rogers Mountaineers 13-13.

The Goblins, after the Rogers game, moved into a tie for second place with Rogers, while Subiaco is in first.

The rest wait their turn while Paul Raney, Robert Hudson, and Steve Greenhaw get ready for two-on-one reaction drill.

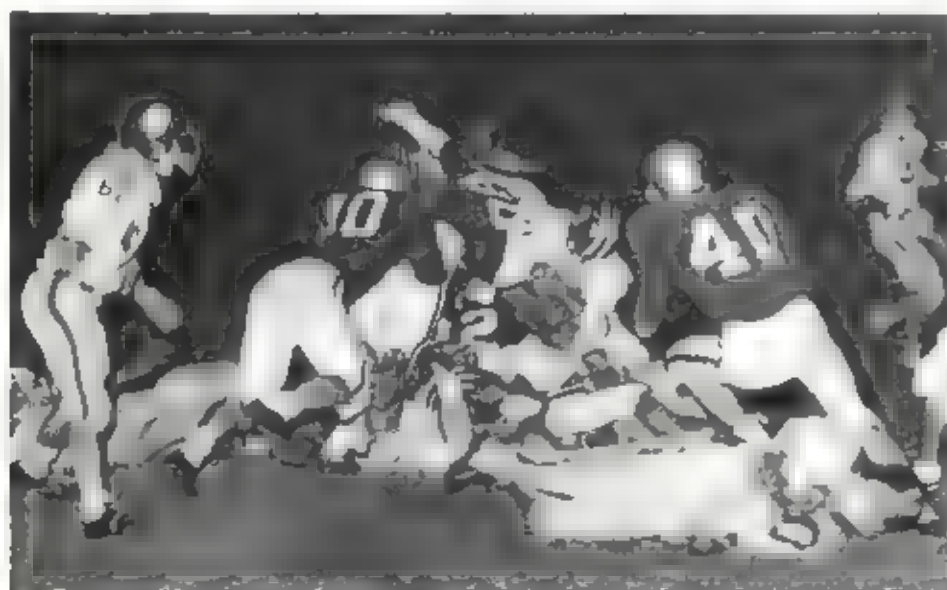

'66 Homecoming

The Harrison Goblins celebrated a successful homecoming almost on the eve of Halloween by downing the Siloam Springs Panthers, 20-7 to move into second place in Region 1AA play.

The Goblins really took command in the final six minutes and marched 87 yards to paydirt with 41 seconds showing on the clock to ice the affair.

Roy Eoff scored all the touchdowns for the Goblins, but they had to make two stout goal-line stands before they could claim the sweet victory.

Despite the pile up, Roy Eoff was over for the first of several scores against Siloam.

The Goblins next evened out their record to 5-5-1 as they romped the Huntsville Eagles 40-6.

The offense continued to look better but as usual it was the Goblin defense that took control of the game.

HHS played their last football game of the '66 season on winning ways as they downed the Bentonville Tigers 34-6. The win put the Goblins on a winning season as it pulled their record up to 6-5-1.

The Golden Goblin basketball team started a new season and won their first 9 games before losing their only game by falling to Jonesboro by the score 57-52.

The team started their season by defeating Berryville 72-52 and continued their winning ways by downing Green Forest 81-54, Marmaduke 95-49, and Rector 63-53.

The boys, No. 6 in the first AP polls, won their fifth and sixth straight games by downing Jonesboro 61-40 and Fayetteville 68-44.

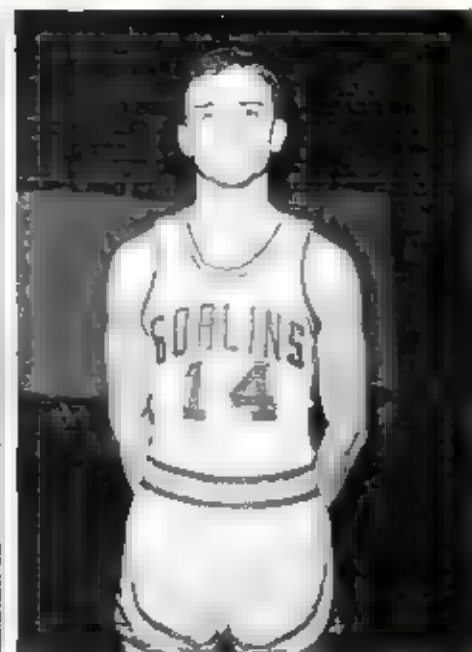

The Goblins won their first 1AA contest of the year by downing Bentonville 69-44.

Harrison made it number eight and nine as they downed Rogers 91-58 and Berryville 69-44.

The Goblins, now the number 3 team in the state, lost its first game and last game of the season on a snowy night, when nothing seemed to go right. They had one of their coldest nights from the field, hitting only 36 per cent and hitting only 50 per cent from the free throw line.

The Goblins, 15-1, took on Fort Smith Northside, a tough AAA team, and topped them handily by the score 54-42.

Next the Goblins played one of their biggest rivals, the Mt. Home Bombers, and showed them who was really No. 1; and got even for last year also, as they bombed them 60-48.

The Goblins continued their winning ways as they downed Subiaco 59-27, Huntsville 80-36, Rogers 74-29, and Subiaco again 63-51.

Now, the number 2 team in the state, the mighty Goblins had only 5 games left, and was leading the conference race but their last 5 were the most important.

First, the Goblins downed Mt. Home 66-60, in a close and thrilling game. The Siloam Springs Panthers were next to fall to the Goblins, the score was 61-50. The team next dropped Van Buren 58-43 to set the stage for the Harrison-Valley Springs' game.

The Tigers from Valley Springs came out all fired-up and were leading the Goblins 33-19 at the half, but hot shooting by Donnie Watts, who scored 20 points in the last half, pulled the Goblins out on top by the score of 58-53.

The Goblins finished the season by downing Huntsville 74-61 and ending their regular season record with 31-1.

The going gets tough in the final minutes of the Harrison-Valley Springs game. The Goblins won 58-53.

GOBLINS REIGN AS STATE AA CHAMPS

Donnie Watts shows his form which enabled him to be the "Most Valuable Player."

Kipp Wolfe adds two for the Gobblins.

The Harrison Gobblins, being spoofed three times in the last five years, were not to be denied on their fourth try, and, after solving some last-minute troubles, captured the AA basketball championship trophy in Barton Coliseum.

The Gobblins put together four fine games and, along with poise, leadership, and coaching, emerged victorious over the uprising Russelville Cyclones.

Thus the Gobblins won their first state championship ever. The Gobblins first defeated Helena 82-65, then Benton 68-48, next West Memphis in the semi-finals 69-45, and finally eliminated Russelville for the championship, 55-43.

Spirit is exhilaration, loud and boisterous, quiet, prideful -- victorious! It's the choked emotions of disappointment, a mysterious mixture of wonder and anger, joy, anxiety, and hurt -- but never indifference. This spirit is mirrored in every activity of Harrison High School, whether it is in the fever pitch of an exciting football game or in the poignant moment of an election lost.

In the course of these activities, a few individuals won special honors in academics, sports, organizations, and the social whirl. Carrying forth the spirit of HHS, an enthusiastic student body made 1966-67 a banner year.

For the sophomore or the junior, homecoming will be memorable, and a reflection of the past. This year's homecoming will certainly be remembered by all of the '67 graduating class, including homecoming queen, Suzanne Cone.

The day's activities officially began with an afternoon assembly in which the queen was crowned by Bill Phillips, co-captain of the Goblins. After the coronation, there were skits and a pep assembly. After the assembly, school was dismissed for a parade, in honor of the 1966 Homecoming royalty. The day was climaxed with a Goblin victory over Siloam, and a dance at the Jr. High Cafeteria.

Homecoming not only means royalty and a ball game, but it also means putting in a lot of work on the floats, which is just what Bill Capps, Debbie Monday and Vickie Cox are doing. Glenn Carlson makes good decorations for the FBLA float.

Special Honors Won in 1967

Honors ranging from cooking, beauty, scientific intelligence, and outstanding characteristics were won by many deserving students in HHS. These honors brought fame to the students themselves, and to the school as a whole. These honors, along with others, helped make the Class of '67 truly the Class of Champions.

Guests and parents of the Srs. were present at the Assembly.

Mrs. McCoy and Mrs. Raney were each presented a gift by Penny Nickels and Jerry Villines from the entire Senior class. We each would like to express our own thanks to them for their work with the senior class.

Mr. Roomsburg was presented a plaque by Patsy Keeter to show our appreciation of him and of the work he has done in HHS and also his outstanding work in DE-DO department. We will certainly miss him next year.

Penny Nickels and Pat Andrews are the representatives of the senior class as they read the wills of the 150 seniors.

Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Nickels and Mr. Townzen review the past as they look back in 1984 and read the prophecy of the seniors.

Seniors Prove They Are "The Class of Champs"

In the last assembly of their high school days, the seniors proved they were truly "The Class of Champions."

Seniors looked back over the past four years of high school and saw that in their high school career the honors they had seen come and past, State Basketball runner-ups in '64-'65, '65-'66 and STATE CHAMPS '66-'67. They saw students going on trips, and just being at ballgames.

These were all in the past at Senior Assembly, but with our Class Wills and Prophecies, we also knew that the future would be bright and that they would long be remembered as the "Class of Champions."

for Seniors of '67

For some Seniors the journey begins right after Graduation, because this is the night they have been waiting for since they began their first day of school. Lasting friendships and good times will be remembered by the Class of '67 as they leave the campus of HHS as students and return only as alumni.

Roy Eoff and Linda Blansit march into the gym for the beginning of Commencement Program.

"The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step." The one step for Seniors was graduation. From graduation comes the future. Some will be doctors, lawyers, teachers, and some will be in the service, or some other occupation.

There will be college to look forward to, and just planning for the future. This journey will take over a thousand miles, but our first step was our high school years. The diploma received for 12 years of hard work will always remind us of our long journey.

Honor student, Tim Risley, speaks at Commencement.

Commencement Brings Joy and Sadness

Senior members of the HHS Chorus sing the '67 Class Song, "Born Free."

The first person from the Class of '67 to receive his diploma was Pat Andrews.

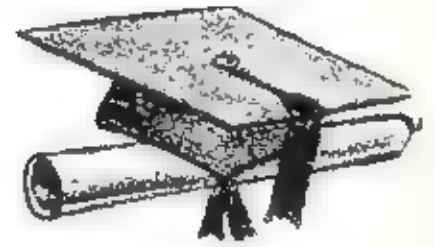

Carol Yocum, the last person out of a class of 150, receives her diploma.

The Class of '67 leaves the gym after graduating. They have 12 long years of learning behind them.

Seniors of Chaperones for the Senior Party.

There was a time to work, and a time to play in our high school days. The past four years ended with a party following Commencement.

The seniors and their guests loaded buses in the school parking lot and headed for the National Guard Armory. The party had many activities going on. There were games to play, dancing, and just talking about the past, and future.

Following the dance, the seniors loaded the buses and headed for the Lyric Theater to see a movie. Afterwards the Seniors went to their "ole Alma Mater's" cafeteria for a breakfast, which ended the Senior All Night Party, and the end of their high school years.

Seniors and their guests enjoy the food that was served at the Senior Party.

It seems appropriate to start our advertising section with a picture of our town, Harrison, Arkansas. It was the help of these businesses that made our 1967 yearbook possible. We on the annual staff are truly grateful for the help of each and every one of you.

KHOZ RADIO AM-FM

KHOZ radio is known to the HHS students as the "constant companion wherever you are" for no good Goblin would be caught anywhere without his radio. KHOZ offers music on both AM and FM.

KHOZ, the voice of the Ozarks has programs designed for everyone's interest. Starting with the Early Bird program and the Coffee Club, the Harrison people wake up and have breakfast to recorded music. The rest of the morning is filled with Party Line and local, state and national news. On Week days the early part of the afternoon is devoted to country and western music. By the time school is out however, Marc Time is in full swing and the Goblins roar out the four lane with their radios blaring out the latest Monkey or Mamas & Papas hit.

For Goblin sportsfans KHOZ broadcasts the football and basketball games and Cardinal baseball games in the spring and summer. In addition KHOZ also offers the Coaches Corner, where the coaches discuss the games and the plays they will use. This program has helped to stimulate interest in the fine athletic program of HHS. KHOZ always advertises all HHS school activities and the free publicity is greatly appreciated. The announcers at KHOZ-Marc Williams, Ralph Scaggs, Bevan Dunlap, David Henderson, Everton Horton, and Upton Horn are known by everyone in the KHOZ listening area. In any season KHOZ AM-FM is the station to keep you informed of the news, weather or for good entertainment.

The announcers and everyone connected with KHOZ want to say "congratulations" to the Class of '67 and "We're No. 1."

Golden Goblin Staff Plans

The editor, Linda Foster and co-editors, Nancy Parkinson and Jerry Villines study page layouts for the football section.

The boys who are responsible for a very interesting sports section are sports editors, Terry Villines, Paul Mathis and Robert Hudson.

The layouts throughout the book were the responsibility of layout editor Sarah Cone with assistants Dolores Perme, Suzanne Cone and Ronnie Pugh.

Reflections of 1966-67.

"Steady now, and this time don't look cross-eyed!" Charles Klepper jokes with Shara Rife, Vicky O'Halloran and Lonna Benton as they attempt a fantastic photographic first for the Goblin.

The people who kept our records straight and kept us out of debt were business managers, Roger Earnest, Penny Nickels, and Bart Hudspeth.

All finished--We hope you like the 1967 Golden Goblin.

Linda Foster, Editor

Jerry Villines, Assistant Editor

Nancy Parkinson, Assistant Editor

This is it — your 1967 GOLDEN GOBLIN. As we look back over the year, we see that it really was a great year. From football season winning second in conference to Football Homecoming with Queen Suzanne. We also remember many great assemblies each in their own way the most entertaining. Then we were getting our own new cafeteria and piped-in music. We cannot forget the NHS tapping ceremonies and their excitement. Some of us will have the pleasure of looking back and remember laughing at "Hello Dolly", but all of us can remember seeing those "stupid" girls who called themselves the "Lady Godivas" vs. the "Bodi-O-Dos" in what they called a powder puff football game. Our basketball season started and we once again looked forward to going to state tournament and winning. Well, our Golden Gobblins didn't let us down this time. We proved to the whole state that we are No. 1 by winning the state tournament and becoming the AA-State Champs. Donnie Watts and Gary Clark made All-State and Donnie even made the All-American Prep Team. We are all proud of Donnie for this. Spring came and campaigns started when Student Body elections came around. The seniors were taken back to "Fantasvland" by the juniors. Then came the suspense of Who's Who being announced and the Senior Hall of Fame. Juniors will recall when delegates for Boys' State and Girls' State were being chosen and each hoped that he or she would be the lucky one to go. The last year of high school was almost gone for the seniors. Their caps and gowns arrived. The seniors chose their class song, motto, color, and flower. The end of school is both happy and sad. Seniors are leaving and juniors and sophomores are moving up one more step on the scale of life.

We on the annual staff hope that by reflecting by word and picture the highlights for us that we have perhaps brought to your mind the ones most special to you. It is our hope that you can look back on this year at HHS with the feeling that it was a stepping stone to a wonderful, mysterious tomorrow in a world that will demand your best.

"Isn't it strange that princes and kings,
And clowns that caper in the sawdust rings,
And common folks like you and me,
Are builders for eternity?
Each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass and a bag of rules,
And each must fashion ere life be blown
A stumbling block or a stepping stone!"

MAY EACH STUDENT OF HARRISON HIGH SCHOOL BE A STEPPING STONE is the wish of the GOLDEN GOBLIN staff.
